Fairchild

Berea College, Ky.
May 20th 1874.

Mr. Wm. Lloyd Garrison,

Dear Sir,

I write to thank you for your article in the Independent on the subject of non-proscriptive schools. You have the true view of the subject, I have no doubt; and those principles will triumph, but not speedily.

But I write especially, at the request of our faculty, to invite you to visit us. We suppose you will attend the anti-slavery reunion convention at Chicago, and it would be a favorable time, on your return, to come with Bro.

Yet to this place, it will do your heart good to witness the freedom from prejudice and caste which prevails here. Or if you can linger about, and attend our commencement on the 1st. of July, and address a crowd of two thousand people of all classes, mingling without distinction, we should like it better.

Can you come? Please let me know as soon as you can.

Yours truly,

E. H. Fairchild.